A WEBSITE launched in October by East Grinstead and District Lions Club has been so successful it has received an award.

The town group was given the title of best new Internet site above other clubs in the south east.

Jim Miller, spokesman for East Grinstead and District Lions Club, said: "The website has been really successful.

"From it the president Rob Holwell has been tracked down by an old school pal, someone saw about the caravan holidays and applied and we have had books donated.

"We have had 2,000 hits since October."

Mr Miller added: "You can view photographs from recent events and find out what's coming up."

The website can be found at www.eastgrinsteadlions.org.uk

With acknowledgements to the 'The East Grinstead Courier'.
