Laptop for Sackville College

Sackville College is 400 years old this year and they wish to update all their records, however the existing computer was beginning to show its age and it was not possible to make it fully secure up to present day requirements. Graham Gaisburgh-Watkyn the warden explained his predicament to Lion David Heasman at the Christmas Carol Concert. The Lions Club discussed the problem and came up with the idea to provide a new Laptop Computer that was completely secure.

A machine was purchased, at a discount from Page Computers who also agreed to install the machine and ensure it was fully secure.

On Tuesday 3rd February Lion President Stan Hogman and Lions David Heasman and Peter Hennessy presented the laptop to warden Graham with Keith Page on hand to install it.

Mr Graham Gaisburgh-Watkyn said “what a lovely 400th birthday present to receive from the East Grinstead Lions”
